

Outbooks Newsletter - March 2019

Director's Preface

We are proud to mention that we are now ISO27001 certified, ISO 9001:2015 certified and IEC registered which adds more credentials to our name. The information security certification and quality management certifications take us to a new level in terms of credibility. We are not only adding certifications, but also new offices. Our new Noida, India office has already added 25 people and we are still hiring; growing at a scorching pace.

It is a great pleasure to be associated with organizations of all sizes and from across UK. Our clientele includes big firms, mid to small sized accounting firms who have established themselves and even accountants who have just started; the trust they show in us to manage their accounts and bookkeeping is overwhelming. In the last few months we have added some more big names to our clientele. Interestingly we also saw a lot of start-up accounting firms approaching us to outsource their client's accounting and bookkeeping.

Finally, with the MTD coming into picture, it certainly will increase more work for the accountants and bookkeepers, who may have to sail through a rough storm initially before reaching the calm sea. I am confident though that the freshness of the spring season will let us all enter the new phase smoothly though.

Amit Agarwal
Managing Director, Outbooks UK

Our New Office

New office @Noida Sector 61, UP - India

Outbooks is fast growing and we have just opened up a new office in Sector 61 Noida. This gives us an opportunity to hire smart and more experienced folks to join our team without having to move to a different area. Our existing team that used to travel far to work everyday can also take a sigh of relief and work more relaxed from an office near their home. We're fast expanding and ready to serve more clients!

Social Responsibility

Serving food to school children

In India, many children arrive at school having had little or no breakfast. Without a lunch, at school, some children would choose to stay at home, while those at school would go through the day learning on an empty stomach. Outbooks has taken the initiative to give back to society by organizing a meal every month for over 200+ local school children. It's a privilege and an honor to be in a position to be able to help the needy.
